

The Eighteenth Century
Theory and Interpretation

---

VOLUME 54

SUMMER 2013

NUMBER 2

---

Special Issue
Sensational Subjects

Guest Editors: Manushag N. Powell and Rivka Swenson

Introduction

Subject Theory and the Sensational Subject 147
Manushag N. Powell and Rivka Swenson

Novel Environments

“It was impossible to know these People”: Secondary Qualities and the Form of Character in A Journal of the Plague Year 153
Helen Thompson

What the Eye Cannot See: Interior Landscapes in Mansfield Park 169
Julie Park

Feeling Things: The Novel Objectives of Sentimental Objects 183
Crystal B. Lake

Tactile Maneuvers

The Tactility of Authorial Names 195
David A. Brewer

Charlotte Smith’s Tactile Poetics 215
Kristin M. Girtten

Burke, Biomedicine, and Biobelligerence 231
Richard A. Barney

Technological Difficulties

Listening to the Voice on the Page: Joshua Steele and the Technologies of Recording Noelle Chao	245
“Without the Help of Glasses”: The Anthropocentric Spectacle of Nehemiah Grew’s Botany Al Coppola	263
The Limits of the Senses in Johnson’s Scotland Ruth Mack	279
Notes on Contributors	295